CASES IN CIRCUIT COURT STRICKEN FROM DOCKET

Alleged Liquor Violation Set for Trial one Day is Dismissed on Motion on the Next.

After the case of the State of Indiana against Burton, in which the defendant was charged with an illegal sale of liquor, had been set for trial for the first day of the next term of court, it was dismissed Saturday on motion of Deputy Prosecutor Wesner. The date of trial was fixed on Friday. The defendant was found guilty by a jury in this city several months ago and an appeal was taken to the circuit court. The dismissal was a surprise to those who have been following the case.

In filing his motion for a dismissal the deputy prosecutor stated that the defendant was a minor; that he was attending high school and was preparing himself to enter the navy. The deputy prosecutor stated that the boy who is alleged to have purchased the liquor has the appearance of being more than twenty-one years of age and that he understood the lad's step-father had given the saloonist notice that his son could buy beer in small quantities occasionally.

Prosecutor Underwood stated that he did not know that the case had been dismissed. He said it was set for trial Friday and he believed that it would be prosecuted at the next term of court. Deputy Prosecutor Wesner said today that he assumed full responsibility for the new turn that has been taken in the matter and believed that in view of the existing circumstances he was justified in filing a motion to strike the case from the docket.

At the same time the Burton case was dismissed several cases against Joseph Stanfield and Sam Jones, both of this city, were also dismissed. Around the police headquarters there was considerable discussion regarding the action of the deputy prosecutor in dismissing these cases and the news occasioned much surprise. It is rather an unusual proceeding for a case to be stricken from the circuit court docket after the defendant has been found guilty in a lower court unless new and important evidence is subsequently learned or it is obvious that the defendant has been done a gross wrong.

SLIGHT CHANGES NOTED IN PRICES

Articles of Food for Thanksgiving Dinner Will Cost About Same as Last Year.

GROCERS READY FOR RUSH

Turkeys on Foot Retail at 16 Cents a Pound But Dressed They Bring 25 Cents.

Housewives are giving attention to the probable menu for that Thanksgiving dinner and are regular students of the "Suggestions for Thanksgiving Dinner" columns. Those who have made some inquiry about food prices find that the dinner this year will cost about the same as it did last year as only a few articles are lower and these reductions are so small that they are not taken into account.

The popularity of the Thanksgiving bird is not waning despite the cost and hundreds will be served in Seymour next Thursday. Turkeys may be purchased for sixteen cents a pound, that is if the housewives want to dress them. Dressed turkeys are retailing for twenty-five cents a pound. However, everybody may not desire to serve turkey and can be just as thankful with a well browned baked chicken before them, which can be procured for 12½ cents a pound. And then, it may be that others will want a beef roast or a choice cut of lamb, mutton or pork which can be purchased at the usual price.

But the turkey is only the beginning of a well regulated Thanksgiving dinner which may include a score or more of articles, according to the size of the pocket book. One of the most important items is the cranberry sauce for what is Thanksgiving without cranberries? These are marketed at ten cents a quart or two quarts for fifteen cents. Celery is another necessary item which can be supplied for from five to ten cents a bunch depending upon the size and quality.

The turkey, of course, would not be complete without oyster dressing and oysters are selling from 35 cents to 45 cents a quart. Other articles needed for the principal course, such as peas, corn, beans, etc., can be bought in cans at the usual prices which range from ten cents to 25 cents a can.

To make a Thanksgiving dinner complete there should be a dish of nuts and fruits, all of which add to the total cost of the menu. Oranges are retailing 25 cents and 35 cents a dozen, according to size and lemons are selling for 10 and 15 cents a dozen. Apples are found on the market for 25 cents to 40 cents a peck and grapes range in price from 5 cents to fifteen cents a pound. Twenty cents will buy a pound of first class figs, and dates are available for 10 cents a package. Grape fruit sell for 5 and 10 cents apiece according to the size.

Fresh mince meat in bulk is carried by most of the grocers and retails for 15 cents a pound. English walnuts are retailing for 20 cents and 25 cents a pound and shelled (Continued on page 4, column 5.)

BURGLARS HOLD UP HUSBAND AND WIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stacy, Who Live Near Scottsburg, Bound Hand and Foot by Burglars.

WARNED NOT TO LEAVE HOUSE

Robbery is Not Reported Until Early Today and Local Police Asked to Watch for Men.

Chief of Police McCord this morning received a long distance telephone message from the sheriff of Scott county asking him to watch for two men who burglarized the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stacy, three miles southwest of Scottsburg, about 6 o'clock Sunday night. Mr. Stacy put up a fight but was overpowered and both he and his wife were bound hand and foot and tied together. The burglars then went through the house and found between $3 and $4 in cash. Other contents of the house were not molested. The two strangers then instructed the man and wife not to leave the premises.

Mr. Stacy succeeded in working himself free from the ropes and then untied those that held his wife. Because of the warning that was given by the burglars neither Mr. Stacy nor his wife ventured from the house until daylight this morning when he aroused the neighbors and told them what had happened. The county sheriff was immediately notified and telephoned to the police officers of the surrounding towns to watch for the men.

When the burglars called at the Stacy home they demanded that Mr. Stacy throw up his hands but instead of doing so he endeavored to oust one of the men from the room. He succeeded in knocking the cap from the burglar's head but was unable to tear off the mask. The faces of both men were partly covered with handkerchiefs. The husband was finally overpowered and his hands and feet were tied. His wife was unable to give assistance and she, too, was bound hand and foot. The man and woman were then tied together and it was several hours before they could free themselves.

Mr. Stacy was able to give a fairly accurate description of the men and said that one was about twenty-one years of age and the other was several years older. Both were about the same height and one was square shouldered while the other was slender. They wore dark coats and caps and their faces were of a ruddy complexion.

Immediately after the robbers searched the house and they departed nothing was seen of them. It is supposed that they went north from Scottsburg and probably boarded a traction car or Pennsylvania freight train. The local police have searched the railroad yards and other places in this city where men of this type might likely seek shelter but have been unable to find any that would answer the description given. One man, who was suspected of knowing something about the robbery, was seen here by the police early this morning before the telephone call was received but could not be located later in the day.

CITY SCHOOLS WILL BE GIVEN TWO DAYS' VACATION

Classes will Adjourn Wednesday Afternoon for Thanksgiving—Christmas Vacation.

Superintendent Mott announced this morning that the city schools will adjourn Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving vacation. No classes will be held on Thursday or Friday but the regular work will be resumed on Monday, November 27.

Announcement has also been made that the schools will close Thursday afternoon, December 24, for the Christmas vacation of one week. The class work will be resumed on January 4. Although the vacation is shorter than usual the pupils will be given the entire holiday week. A longer vacation at Thanksgiving and Christmas time would mean that the final adjournment of school in the spring would be delayed as the entire school term must be completed.

GERMAN ACTIVITY ALARMS BRITISH

Battleship Along North Sea Coast May be Preparing for an Attack on London.

PEOPLE OF TWO TOWNS LEAVE

Submarines are Being Brought Together and Fear of Naval Campaign is Felt.

London, November 23—Activity of the Germans along the Belgian coast and reports that warships are about to move from Emden was the cause of much uneasiness here today. Messages from North Holland say that unusual activity prevails at Emden. A dispatch from The Hague to the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "Fishermen who daily cruise near the German waters say that the German fleet is preparing for decisive action in the North sea. Prince Henry of Prussia was at Emden yesterday for an inspection of the torpedo and submarine craft."

The greatest mystery surrounded the movement along the coast. Military experts here express the belief that this activity in Belgium may be a part of a plan for the establishment of bases for a daring raid on London or the forerunner of a movement to engage the Allied fleet off the coast and under this cover endeavor to transport troops by sea to the French coast.

The entire population of the Belgian coast towns of Zeebrugge and Knokke has been transferred to Bruges by the Germans. The people were not permitted to move into Holland. Bruges is now said to be garrisoned largely by slightly wounded soldiers, the others having been moved toward the front.

Reports have been received that six submarines are being put together on the docks at Zeebrugge. The inhabitants of St. Nicholas, a city of forty thousand, between Antwerp and Ghent, have been ordered to leave immediately. St. Nicholas is an important railroad junction. The people of the town were ordered to move to Antwerp, where, they were told, unoccupied houses, abandoned by Belgians who fled the city, would be turned over to them.

"WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUNKIN"

PHOTO
BY FRANK FOURNIER

When the frost is on the punkin, and the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyouch and gobble of the struttin' turkey-cock,
And the clackin' of the guineas and the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's hallylooyer as he tiptoes on the fence;
O, it's then's the times a feller is a feelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to greet him from a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bare-headed, and goes out to feed the stock,
When the frost is on the punkin, and the fodder's in the shock.

SERGEANT BECOMES KNOWN AS "HUNTER OF FIELD GLASSES"

Crawling Close to Enemy Diverts Attention by Throwing Stone and then Grabs Glasses.

(By William Philip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Nov. 23. (By Mail to New York).—The 219th Reserve Infantry Regiment has made a reputation for pulling off queer stunts. One of its heroes, a sergeant who has been killed, won for himself the name of "the hunter of field glasses" on account of the marked attention he paid to German officers carrying field-glasses. Risking his life dozens of times in foolhardy adventures, the sergeant managed to equip nearly every man in his company with German glasses. Just before his last exploit he was asked to describe his plan of campaign and he replied very simply: "We just wiggle on hands and knees as near the 'Bosch' as possible, then we pick up a stone and throw it in the opposite direction so as to make him turn his head. Then we jump on him. That's all." He met his death in just such an exploit, and died with a smile on his lips.

The 219th boasts the possession of the fattest man in the army, a private named Le Goazien, who in civil life is the director of a big co-operative store. Le Goazien, who is the life and soul of the trenches, weighs about 270 lbs. He says: "I could have been sent home when the mobilization order was published, for I found that all men weighing over 210 were classed with idiots, hunchbacks and cripples, but I preferred to come and fight." The fat private is a great favorite of his commanding officer, an Alsatian Lieut-Colonel Stoul, who always sees that his men get plenty to eat.

Recently Le Goazien returned to the front from a visit to Paris on behalf of his Colonel, with an enormous crayfish and a great hamper of oysters. A well-known chef, now a private in the 219th prepared the crayfish for the colonel, who divided it into small pieces so that as many of his men as possible could share the dainty with the officers. The eating of the oysters was disturbed twice by the enemy's batteries, and when all was finished, the colonel turned to his guests and said:

"Now, my friends, I want two volunteers to throw the oyster shell and the remains of the crayfish into the German trenches."

The whole party volunteered and two were chosen, who carried out their queer mission under a hail of lead.

Among the wounded who came in from the fighting on the Yser, was a young German whose bloodless, intellectual face was but the head-piece to a mass of bandages. A little group of nurses gathered round him, for pinned to the blood-stained blanket was a bloodstained sheet of paper on which was scrawled "He saved the lives of seven French soldiers." Naturally such a recommendation ensured for the sufferer the best possible attention and the English doctor who is in charge of him hopes to pull him through. From the broken sentences which fell from the wounded man's lips it transpired that his company having captured seven Frenchmen, were about to shoot them, when he interposed and refused to allow his comrades to perpetrate the crime. His interference might have cost him dear, but the company was under fire, and before they could make up their minds, bursting shrapnel and a charge of French cavalry swept the little group in different directions. The defender of the prisoners was badly wounded, as were some of the men he tried to save, but one of the latter crawled towards his benefactor, and managed to scribble the simple sentence which told that the wounded man was a hero.

How Private Lavine distinguished himself near Lublin by capturing single handed 19 Austrian soldiers is told by wounded Cossacks arriving at Moscow.

Lavine has wandered off from his patrol to have a look round in a neighboring wood on his own hook. He had just entered the wood when he came upon a squad of Austrians. Undismayed, he promptly resorted to a typical Cossack ruse. Looking back he beckoned to some imaginary comrade and shouted: "Come here! This way! Here they are."

The Austrians followed the movements of his hands with the greatest excitement. Believing he was the captain of a full company, they promptly decided to surrender. Lavine accordingly dismounted and advanced, sword in one hand and revolver in the other. He ordered them to throw down their rifles, which they did, and then directed them to march ahead of him. He succeeded in bringing back to his station the entire bag of 16 soldiers and three officers without firing a shot.

MAY SEND MONEY BY PARCEL POST

Express Companies Likely to Lose the Business—Federal System Program.

Plans are being drafted by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for the use of the parcel post system for transporting money and securities for the government instead of the express companies as at present. The government will be able so the secretary believes to obtain quicker and cheaper service than is possible at present by using the express. An additional advantage is expected to accrue to the change owing to the contemplated constant shipments of money and securities among the twelve federal reserve banks and the member banks in each district.

If the parcel post system is used it will be possible to ship "commercial paper" to the reserve bank of any district and send back federal reserve notes by over night mail. Such an arrangement would make it necessary for the reserve banks to establish many branches in their districts and it is hoped to make the new system more economical on that account.

Secretary McAdoo has received an opinion from the controller of the treasury informing him that he has the power to ship money and securities by parcel post. The controller pointed out that whereas restrictions have been placed on the government insuring against fire and other risks there appears to be nothing in the law to prevent the insurance of money shipped by post.

Under the old system the government had a continuing contract with the United States express company for transporting money. That company conducted the business for the government for about twenty-five years. When the company was liquidated and sold out to the Wells-Fargo company the latter express company claimed the business by inheritance. Instead the government requested bids from all the leading express companies for transporting money. These bids were received not very long ago and ever since the transportation of money has been divided among the express companies.

RAILROADS CARRY RELIEF SHIPMENTS WITHOUT COST

Packages Must be Marked "War Relief Donation" and Addressed to Proper Organizations.

The Baltimore and Ohio and other railroads which have been transporting relief shipments for European war sufferers are notifying those who tender donations that at the request of the British and French governments, articles consigned for English sufferers should be addressed to the British War Association, 203 Fifth avenue, New York, and shipments for France should be marked to the French Benevolent Society, 450 West Thirty-fourth street, New York.

Packages offered to the railroad companies must be delivered at regular terminals and plainly marked "War Relief Donation." They are then transported free of charge to the proper authorities in New York who have been delegated to receive them in the name of the foreign people.

HIS AUTO STALLED IN FRONT OF FAST TRAIN

Patoka Farmer and Family
Caught at Crossing.

Princeton, Ind., Nov. 23.—James W. Bruner, a farmer, fifty years old, and his six-year-old daughter Louise were killed when an automobile driven by Bruner was struck by a train at Patoka, three miles north of here Sunday afternoon, and Mrs. Bruner suffered the fracture of one leg and one arm broken and her back was injured, and John Bruner, a son, had both legs broken. Ralph Bruner, another son, was severely bruised.

The accident occurred at the crossing where Mrs. Watt Adams, another Patoka citizen, met death under a train about three weeks ago. It is thought that Bruner saw the approaching train when nearing the crossing and probably lost control of the machine, "killing" his engine. The machine was demolished and the occupants were thrown high in the air. The train was stopped and backed to the scene of the accident. The train crew and passengers rendered all assistance possible.

SUBMARINES PROVE WORTH
American Naval Officers Much Interested in Reports.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The United States navy is very much interested in learning the facts regarding the destruction of the British dreadnought Audacious and proof that she was hit by a German torpedo discharged from a submarine is awaited here as a matter of the most vital importance.

The importance of submarines as an adjunct to the main battle strength in time of war is fully appreciated in the United States navy, and the department is just about to embark on a new era of submarine construction as a result of its views on the capabilities of submarines. Many officers in the navy who have been for years predicting that the next naval war would prove great things for the submarine now feel that they have been completely vindicated.

TRACTION RATES CHANGED
Public Service Commission Grants
Roads' Petition.

Indianapolis, Nov. 23.—The public service commission has granted a petition, long standing, which authorized the Union Traction Company of Indiana to revise its schedule of passenger tariffs on the general basis of 2 cents a mile. Under the new schedule a minimum fare of 5 cents is provided; due consideration is given to competitive fares, the rates being lowered in some instances; commuters' tickets in books of twenty round trips at the rate 1 1/4 cents a mile are to be sold and the sale of round trip tickets at amounts less than two full fares is to be discontinued.

HOW OFFICIAL VOTE STOOD
People of Indiana Defeat Constitutional Convention Proposition.

Indianapolis, Nov. 23.—The tabulation of the official vote on the questions of holding a constitutional convention and of appropriating money for a centennial memorial building has been completed. The proposition to call a constitutional convention was defeated by a majority of 103,897, the vote being 328,947 against the convention and 235,140 for it. On the centennial question the vote was 97,718 in favor of the appropriation and 466,700 against it.

Former Chancellor's New Job.
Rome, Nov. 23.—Prince Bernhard von Buelow, former German chancellor, has been appointed German ambassador to Italy. The fact that the former imperial chancellor married into one of the most aristocratic families of Italy and has lived at Rome almost continuously since his retirement from active public life, is undoubtedly one of the reasons which weighed with the kaiser in his choice.

Developing New Flying Boat.
Hammondsport, N. Y., Nov. 23.—A test of a new type of Curtiss navy flying boat was made here which was considered highly successful. The boat carries five men and with her 160 horse power motor is calculated to develop a speed of over seventy miles an hour. It is said that the company has orders from foreign countries for several of this type.

"WAR TAX" BLANKS RECEIVED HERE

Firms and Corporations Who Are Subject Must Make Settlement During Month.

HEAVY PENALTY PROVIDED

Motion Picture Theaters, Cigar Manufacturers and Others Are Included in the List.

Firms and corporations in this city that are subject to the new "war tax" have received from the internal revenue collector blanks which must be filled out showing the amount that is to be paid by each under the new law. The blanks must be certified to and the payment of money must be made by money order, certified check or with cash. The blanks state that the return must be made sometime during the present month.

The statement upon the back of the blank says that the yearly war tax is computed from June 1, of the year in which it is levied, and covers the entire year up until June 30 of the following year. The statement also says that the tax this fall is to be reckoned from November 1, and is payable during the month of November.

Local "movie" houses, theaters, concert halls and the like, will be taxed on the following scale: Seating capacity of up to 250, $25; seating capacity of from 250 to 500, $50; seating capacity of between 500 and 800, $75; seating capacity of 800 or more $100. The tax law also makes provision for a tax of $10 upon proprietors of such public exhibitions as are not enumerated above.

Owners of pool-rooms will be hit rather hard as they will be required to pay a tax of $5 per table. If they sell tobacco to the extent of $200 or more per year they will be taxed $4.80 more. The latter tax is also understood to apply to merchants, or anyone else doing that amount of business in tobacco.

The war tax also hits cigar makers, of whom Seymour has several, and dealers in leaf tobacco, so that the government is taking quite a little toll from tobacco. This toll will, of course, be paid eventually by the consumer of the tobacco. The government is now collecting not merely the internal revenue upon tobacco, but is also getting a revenue from dealers in the leaf. When the dealer in the leaf tobacco sells it to the manufacturer or cigarmaker the latter also pays a tax upon it, and then finally the retailer of the weed gets to make a little contribution.

The tax upon the cigar makers is governed by the number of cigars manufactured by the maker each year. If his capacity is 100,000 per year he pays $3; from 100,000 to 200,000 he pays $6; from 200,000 to 400,000 he pays $12; from 400,000 to a million, his tax is $30; an out-put of from one to five millions cigars calls for a tax of $150; five millions to twenty millions calls for $600; and so on up the scale.

Brokers are required to pay $30 per year pawn-brokers $50, custom brokers $10 and commercial brokers $20.

The blank must be properly filled out, and sworn to by the taxpayer before a notary public, and the seal of the latter must be affixed to the blank. Checks other than certified ones will not be accepted by the government. No penalty for delinquency was mentioned upon the blank, but it is known that Uncle Sam is a pretty strict sort of a business man, so it will probably be well to be punctual with him.

AMERICAN QUARTET OPENS LYCEUM SEASON TOMORROW

Sale of Reserved Seats at Carter's Drug Store Gratifying to Committee.

The reserved seat sale for the opening number of the Lyceum Course, which opened Saturday evening at Carter's Drug Store, assures a good attendance. Season ticket holders may secure reserved seats for 10 cents, and the single admission price will be 25 and 35 cents. Season tickets for the entire five numbers may also be secured at the Drug store for $1.00. Season tickets for children under 14 will be sold for 75 cents.

The entertainment tomorrow night will be furnished by the American Quartet and the one, differing from that usually presented by a male quartet. Besides singing there will be orchestral numbers, violin and cello solos, whistling solos, readings, and a crayon sketch by Mr. Conrad, one of the best known cartoonists in Lyceum work.

The whistling solos by Mr. Fairchild are an enjoyable feature of the program, while Mr. Gilbert's readings and violin solos are the result of careful training and unusual ability. Mr. Sawyer, the pianist, is exceptionally clever on the piano and also possesses a tenor voice of more than ordinary quality.

The program will commence at 8:15 sharp, and it is desired by the committee that everyone be in their seats by that time.

Season tickets and reserved seats may be secured at the Carter Drug Store until seven o'clock Tuesday evening, after that at the theatre.

GERMANS PREDICT VICTORY IN THE RUSSIAN CAMPAIGN

Battle is Now in Progress Over Wide Territory and Forces are Advancing Steadily.

By United Press. (Via Wireless)—There is every confidence that the result of the battle now raging in Poland will prove a decisive victory for the Germans and Austrians and settle the fate of the Russian campaign. This was the statement issued here this afternoon by the war office.

Reports from Vienna state that the Germans and Austrians are advancing and have extended their battle lines over a wide territory. It is reported that battle is now in progress in the Carpathians.

CONSTITUTIONALISTS ARE READY TO ENTER VERA CRUZ

8,000 Move Forward to Take Charge of the City as the Americans Depart for the U. S.

By United Press
Vera Cruz, Nov. 23.—With transports steamed up and ready to sail American soldiers who have occupied Vera Cruz started to sail for America today. A mile outside of the city a general was waiting with 8,000 disciplined Constitutionalists. He will enter Vera Cruz as soon as the Americans leave. As the Americans in the sandhills outside the city left for the city this morning the Constitutionalists moved forward to take their places.

The evacuation took place quietly and great crowds lined the street but there was no disorder. All saloons were closed.

HALTING THE CAMPAIGN

In Western Field Both Armies
Are Exhausted.

IN EASTERN THEATER OF WAR

Germans and Russians Engaged In a Gigantic Struggle.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—In the eastern war theater the situation remains unchanged. In Poland we still are fighting for victory. The fighting south of Plock and at Czenstachova continues.

London, Nov. 23.—The German advance has been stopped short, according to Russian claims, Petrograd saying the struggle is most desperate, but that the Russians have gained partial successes.

Some confirmation of the Russian statement is found in the Berlin official report. This claims no victory for the Germans and says plainly that the fighting is going on and there has been no change in the situation.

The tremendous struggle in Poland remains the chief operation of the whole war, since upon it depends the Russian invasion of Germany and the consequent slackening of German effort in Belgium and France. The Russians have in western Poland alone 1,200,000 fighting men; the Germans have 800,000.

Weather Checks Fighting.

In the west exhaustion and bitter weather have stopped infantry movements and are holding combatants to the trenches. Sunday there was artillery fighting at Ypres and near Soissons, with no decisive result. Paris says that the French artillery is much superior to the German. From the North sea to Alsace the situation was "calm," according to Paris, while Berlin reports the situation quiet.

Turkey is again active in the Black sea and the cruiser Hamidich has bombarded the town of Tiape, killing four persons and wounding several. Petrograd announces that a Russian column has progressed near Erzerum, which indicates that the Russian withdrawal ended several days ago, and that Russia is once more advancing in northeastern Armenia.

Situation in Egypt.

All capitals are silent as to the situation along the Egyptian frontier. It is known that the Young Turk-German commanders planned an invasion of Egypt. Constantinople has asserted that victories have been gained over the British. No word whatever is given out here on the subject.

The chief feature of the news in England was a riot in a detention camp on the Isle of Man. It appears that the Germans and Austrians were insubordinate and attacked their jailers. In the fight four prisoners were killed and one was wounded. For a long time there has been a report current that the German and Austrian civilians confined in such camps resented their arrest very bitterly.

Ancient Monuments Destroyed.

At Ypres, the key of the allies' whole position in Belgium, and the town which the kaiser himself has told his troops must be taken at any cost, the Germans destroyed historical monuments, beautiful in architecture and rich in tradition. The city hall and the Halles, anciently the great market place, lately a museum, crumbled under German shells. Edifices that survived 600 years collapsed in a few minutes.

Elsewhere in the north and for that matter anywhere along the battle line, there is little fighting. Tremendous losses suffered by both sides, the exhaustion produced by weeks of night and day fighting and sapping, the suffering caused by floods and frost have brought about, for the time at least, a situation which the government refers to laconically as "calm." The soldiers on both sides have kept to the trenches, having neither time nor energy for other labor than to make life barely endurable.

One of Kaiser's Sons Injured.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Prince August William, Emperor William's fourth son, sustained a fracture of the thigh and severe contusions of the jaw as a result of a motoring accident.

Gompers Re-Elected.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The American Federation of Labor at the final session of its thirty-fourth annual meeting re-elected all its present officers, headed by Samuel Gompers, and voted to hold its next convention at San Francisco in November, 1915.

INTOXICATED MAN TAKEN TO JAIL IN A "WHEELER"

"Horseless Patrol" Used by Police—man Russell in Arresting Victim of Half-Pint Booze Bottle.

The "wheel barrow patrol" was brought into use by the police department Saturday night when Frank Temple, who was so completely under the influence of liquor that he could not walk, was wheeled to jail by Policeman Russell. Persons who chanced to be in the downtown district about 11 o'clock and witnessed the ride were at first unable to decide if someone was paying an election bet or if the high school boys were out on a hazing expedition. However, the correct solution was apparent when the uniform of the officer was seen.

Temple went to the gas factory and asked permission to spend the night there. The engineer saw that he was in an intoxicated condition and ordered him from the plant. He was unable to walk but had no difficulty in drinking a half-pint of whiskey which was consumed without taking the bottle from his lips. The engineer sent a call to the police station and it was answered by Policeman Russell. Temple could not walk to the jail and the officer loaded him into a "wheeler" and pushed him to the "cooler."

Temple pleaded guilty to intoxication today and was fined $1 and costs.

ORDER GOVERNING SHIPMENT OF HIDES HAS BEEN MODIFIED

Hay, Straw and Fodder Harvested Prior to August 1, May Also be Transported.

While every precaution is being taken by federal and state authorities to prevent the spread of the foot-and-mouth disease among live stock, the original order governing the shipping of hides and other products has been modified and notice to such effect has been issued by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to its agents and connections.

Shipments of hides will be permitted without disinfection from quarantined sections when such skins were taken from animals prior to August 1 and have since been stored away from cattle and other stock, and hides will be permitted to be shipped from the infected sections without disinfection when imported into the United States in compliance with import regulations. Hay, straw and fodder may be shipped from quarantined sections when harvested prior to August 1 and stored away from stock since then, when shippers in each instance make affidavits to the railroad of such fact. Hay, straw and fodder used for packing purposes will be permitted to move from quarantined territory when the regulations of disinfection are carried out. Hides can also be shipped from quarantined regions to other states when such shipment has been subjected to ante-mortem and post-mortem inspection by federal authorities.

JOHN J. SULLIVAN SEES END OF PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Progressive National Committeeman From Ohio in Letter Explains Return to G. O. P. Ranks.

Special to Seymour Republican.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 23.—The passing of the Progressive party in this state was evidenced afresh today by the resignation of John J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, as Progressive National Committeeman from Ohio.

By a coincidence Sullivan returned to the Republican party on the anniversary of the birth of President James A. Garfield, his first political hero. The date of November 19th has still another significance for Sullivan, for it was on November 19th, 1911, that he started the national boom for Colonel Roosevelt's third term in a speech before the Garfield Club, of Youngstown, Ohio.

Letters containing the tender of his resignation were sent this afternoon by Sullivan to O. K. Davis, Secretary of the Progressive National Committee, and to Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, the State Chairman of the party.

Sullivan wrote a private letter to Colonel Roosevelt, explaining his resignation.

The message to Davis and Brown said:

"I hereby tender my resignation as Progressive National Committeeman for Ohio and respectfully request its acceptance at an early occasion. It is hard to part, but the time has come. I am going back home."

CHAPTER X.

The bell in the town-crier ceased ringing as we came out on the cliffs of Paradise, where, on the horizon, the sun hung low, belted with a single ribbon of violet cloud.

Below the cliffs, on a crescent of flat sand, from which sluggish, rosy rivulets crawled seaward, a man stood looking out across the water. And the mayor stopped and called down to him: "Oho, the Lizard! I want somebody to drum and read a proclamation. Where's Jacqueline?"

At this instant a young girl, a mere child, appeared on the beach, dragging a sea-rake over the ground behind her. She was a lithe creature, bare-limbed and ragged, with the sea-tan on throat and knee. The girl caught sight of the mayor and gave him a laughing greeting which he returned with a shrug.

"If you want a town-crier," she called up, in a deliciously fresh voice, scarcely tinged with the accent, "I'll cry your edicts and I'll drum for you, too!"

The girl threw her rake into a boat and leaped upon the rocks at the base of the cliff.

"Jacqueline! Don't come up that way!" bawled the mayor, horrified. "Hey! Robert! Oho! Lizard! Stop her or she'll break her neck!"

Breathless, hot, and laughing, the girl pulled herself up over the edge of the cliff. I held out my hand to aid her, but she pushed it away, crying, "Thank you all the same, but here I am."

The mayor looked at her angrily, but, probably remembering he was at her mercy, suppressed his wrath and held out the telegram. "Can you read that, my child?"

"Yes, I can read it. Why not? Can't you?"

"Read? I the mayor of Paradise!" repeated the outraged magistrate. "What do you mean, lizard of lizards! gorse cat!"

"Now if you are going to say such things I won't drum for you," said the child, glancing at me out of her sea-blue eyes and giving a shake to her self-loops.

I gave her a hand-bill; at the first glance her eyes sparkled, the color deepened under her coat of amber tan; she caught her breath and read rapidly to the end.

"Oh, how beautiful," she said, softly.

"Am I to read this in the square?"

"I will give you a franc to read it, Jacqueline."

"No, no—only—oh, do let me come in and see the heavenly wonders! Would you, monsieur? I—I cannot pay—but would—could you let me come in? I will read your notice, anyway," she added, with a quaver in her voice.

"Come whenever you like, Jacqueline," I said. "Ask for me at the gate."

"And who are you, monsieur?"

"My name is Scarlett."

Scarlett, she whispered, as though naming a sacred thing.

The mayor, who had toddled some distance ahead of us, now halted in the square, looking back at us through the red evening light.

"Jacqueline, the drum is in my house. I'll lend you a pair of sabots, too. Come, hasten little idler!"

We entered the mayor's garden, where the flowers were glowing in the luster of the setting sun. The mayor soon reappeared with drum and drumsticks in one hand and a pair of sabots in the other. "Go, my child," he said, and Jacqueline marched through the garden out into the square by the fountain, drumsticks clutched in one tanned fist, the scrolls of paper in the other.

In the center of the square she stood a moment, looking around, then raised the drumsticks; there came a click, a flash of metal, and the quiet square echoed with a startling outburst. Already a knot of people had gathered around her; others came swiftly to windows and doorsteps; the loungers left their stone benches by the river, the maids of Paradise flocked from the bridge. The drum-roll ceased.

"Attention! Men of Finistere! By order of the governor of Lorient, all men between the ages of twenty and forty, otherwise not exempt, are ordered to report at the navy yard barracks, war-port of Lorient, on the 5th of November of the present year, to join the army of the Loire."

"Bretons! France calls! Answer with your ancient battle-cry, 'Sainte-Anne! Sainte-Anne!' The eyes of the world are on Armoric! To arms!"

The girl's voice ceased; a dead silence reigned in the square. The men looked at one another stupidly; a woman began to whimper.

"The curse is on Paradise!" cried a hoarse voice.

The drummer was already drawing another paper from her ragged pocket, and again in the same clear, emotionless voice, but slightly drawing her words, she read:

"To the people of Paradise! The manager of the famous American traveling circus, lately returned from a tour of the northern provinces, with camels, elephants, lions and a magnificent company of artists, announces a stupendous exhibition to be held in Lorient at greatly reduced prices, thus enabling the intelligent and appreciative people of Paradise to honor the Republican circus, recently known as the Imperial circus, with their benevolent and discerning patronage! Long live France! Long live the republic! Long live the circus!"

A resounding roll of the drum ended the announcements; the girl slung the drum over her shoulder, turned to the right, and passed over the stone bridge, sabots clicking.

The maids of Paradise were weeping now by the fountain; the men gathered near, and their slow, hushed voices scarcely rose above the ripple of the stream where Robert the Lizard fished in silence.

I walked across to the Quinze-roi road and met Jacqueline, dancing along with her drum. We stood in the middle of the high-road looking through the dust haze, she doubtless dreaming of the splendors to come, I very, very tired.

Suddenly, straight out of the flaming gates of the sunset, the miracle was wrought. Breathless, she shrank back among the weeds, one hand pressed to her throbbing throat. Then she caught sight of something through the dust that filled her with a delicious terror, and she cried out. For there, uptowering in the haze, came trudging a great, gray creature, a fearsome, swaying thing in crimson trappings, flapping huge ears. It shuffled past, swinging a dusty trunk; the sparkling horsemen cantered by, tin armor blazing in the fading glory; the chariots dragged after, and the closed dens of beasts rolled behind in single file, followed by the band-wagon, where heaven-inspired musicians played frantically and a white-faced clown balanced his hat on a stick and shrieked.

So the circus passed into Paradise; and I turned and followed in the wake of dust, stale odors, and clamorous discord, sick at heart of wandering over a world I had not found too kind.

And at my heels stole Jacqueline.

NEW CHIN FOR SOLDIER.

Surgeons Reconstruct Shot Away Jaw With One of Rubber.

Advances made in surgery during the last few years are being utilized with remarkable results in the treatment of wounded soldiers in the European war. American surgeons who have gone to the front are performing frequent operations which, while not new to science, have been rare in the past. Through their efforts men who other wise would be compelled to go through life maimed and disfigured are being reconstructed physically.

Dr. Joseph Blake of New York, at the American ambulance hospital in Paris, is making a new nose for a wounded man. Over an artificial bridge he is grafting flesh and skin from the man's forearm. Surgeons at the Val de Grace hospital constructed a new chin of rubber, covered with a beard trimmed according to the soldier's photograph.

In the American ambulance hospital a powerful electric magnet is installed for the removal of shrapnel, making unnecessary the long and difficult operation of probing.

25,000 Birds From Saxony.

No less than 25,000 song birds chirped and sang when the steamer Osterdyk, from Rotterdam, arrived at Hoboken. The birds were part of a Christmas cargo that was carried by the steamer. They came from the homes of hundreds of peasants and bird fanciers in Saxony and comprised what is believed to be the largest shipment of birds ever brought to America. Two-thirds of the birds were canaries.

Regain the Mastery Over Blood Trouble

No Matter How Disheartening You Can Overcome It.

Blood disorders are quickly checked by S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. It rushes into the blood and in three minutes has traversed the entire circulation. It penetrates to where the blood is made, it washes out those spots and places where stagnation has settled, it cleanses the membranes, drives irritation from the joints, fills the blood stream with antidotal influence and from head to foot creates conditions that make for blood health. There are people in every community who know this to be true. They have used S. S. S. for severe forms of rheumatism, for indolent, ulcerated spots, for eruptive skin diseases, for all and all those bodily conditions caused by blood loaded with impurities. Being a pure product of Nature it can not hurt the stomach and has therefore been the refuge of a host of people misguided in their dilemma by first flying to those dangerous mercurial drugs which have claimed so many unfortunate. If the skin breaks out in a rash, if boils or other eruptions appear, if there are blood risings or any other indications of impure blood get a bottle of S. S. S. at once, or any druggist. But beware of substitutes. If in doubt as to your trouble or you wish competent medical advice free, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 58 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This department is known far and wide as one of the greatest of help to blood sufferers. But don't delay to get a bottle of S. S. S. today.

ENGLAND MAKES A SUDDEN MOVE

Sends Diplomatic Representative to Vatican.

AN UNEXPECTED PROCEEDURE

Heretofore One of the Strongest to Resent the Papal Claim to Temporal Power, the British Government Has Decided to Recognize the Court of the Holy See During the Continuance of the War.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The keenest interest was aroused here by the announcement that Great Britain has decided to send a diplomatic representative to the holy see, to remain there during the progress of the war.

It is recalled that when the arrangements were being made for the first international peace congress at The Hague, called by Czar Nicholas, England took the lead in objecting to the proposal that a representative of the vatican should have a seat in the congress. Italy took the same view and the plan was shelved. Both England and Italy considered that the presence of a papal representative at a conference of the powers would be in a measure a recognition of the papal claim to temporal power, which has never been abandoned by the holy see.

A Possible Explanation.

In speculations regarding the reason for Great Britain's present step, it is pointed out that while the enemies of England are represented at the vatican by three envoys, those of Austria-Hungary and the kingdoms of Prussia and Bavaria, the allied countries are represented only by two, those of Belgium and Russia. France has not been represented at the holy see since the separation act was passed.

Another point which is brought up as a possible explanation of the move is the political unrest in Ireland due to religious differences. The British war office has been making extreme efforts to increase recruiting in Ireland, but so far has not had the success which was expected.

Besides the countries above mentioned, and Spain, practically all the South American republics maintain representatives at the vatican. These envoys enjoy all the prerogatives and immunities accorded to ambassadors and ministers at the courts of the great powers.

THE INCIDENT IS CLOSED

Turkey's Explanation Regarded as Satisfactory in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The order to the commanders of the cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina to take no action in regard to the situation in Turkey without specific instructions from Washington has been modified by Secretary Daniels.

The latest instructions to the commanders of the warships are that they shall take no action involving the United States except in case of a real emergency endangering the lives of Americans in Turkey.

This modification of the secretary's order of a few days ago restores to Captains Decker and Oman a part at least of the usual discretionary powers which naval officers have when on such duty as the North Carolina and Tennessee. The voluntary explanation of the Turkish government to the effect that the shots were fired toward the Tennessee's launch to warn her against entering the mined and closed port, is regarded as closing the Tennessee incident.

TWO ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Flames in Barn at Fort Wayne Claim Victims.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 23.—Wilhelm Hartman, twenty-three years old, and Walter Neuman, twenty-two, were burned to death when an oil stove was overturned in the loft of the barn at the Hartman home, which the young men had fitted up as a sleeping room. Both bodies were found, after the fire had been extinguished, burned to an unrecognizable crisp.

Fort Wayne Safe Blown.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 23.—The safe in the Knox 5- and 10-cent store located in the heart of the business district was dynamited and more than $600 was stolen. An automobile was stolen from in front of the Commercial club shortly after midnight, and it is believed by the police that the thieves used the machine in escaping from the city.

Death Due to Natural Causes.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 23.—The coroner's jury hearing the evidence into the death of E. F. Baldwin, editor of the Peoria Star, returned a verdict that he had come to his death from uremic poisoning. It held that the blows received on Oct. 3 at the hands of Giles Keithly, a young attorney, and Fred Faber were in no way contributory to his death.

Fatal Hunting Accident.

New Albany, Ind., Nov. 23.—David Henriott, twenty-six years old, married, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun while hunting, seven miles west of here Sunday.

COLORADO IS TIRED OF FEDERAL TROOPS

State Will Reassert Its Sovereignty.

Denver, Nov. 23.—Within forty-eight hours it is expected that Governor Ammons will ask President Wilson to withdraw the federal troops from Colorado and follow this with a proclamation to the effect that the state has determined to exercise its sovereignty in the strike zone.

The report of the legislative investigating committee was presented to the governor Sunday and in it the legislative committee calls on Governor Ammons to take the responsibility of maintaining peace in the state, to dismiss the federal troops and to notify all able-bodied men that they are, under the law, reservists of the state militia.

At a banquet to the national guard Saturday night Governor Ammons and Governor-elect Carlson both made reference to the strike, calling for a declaration for a united citizenship in the interest of the state. Carlson intimated that in the case of lawless characters, deportation will be resorted to.

While the state is preparing to regain control of the strike situation, the United States industrial relations committee will open an investigation of the trouble beginning Dec. 1.

THE WARDEN WILL RESIGN

Keeper of Arizona's Prisoners Balks on Executions.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 23.—Eleven men, six Americans and five Mexicans, will be hanged in the Arizona state penitentiary in one day, Dec. 19, for murder.

The people of the state pronounced their doom by voting against the abolishment of the death penalty Nov. 3, Governor Hunt said, and he therefore will not interfere.

R. E. Sims, warden of the penitentiary, will resign, it is said, rather than spring the trap which will drop the eleven condemned men to death.

Goodnow of Chicago was re-elected as press secretary.

REIGN OF TERROR IN MEXICO CITY

Lawless Bands Take Control of Capital.

FOREIGNERS TOOK A HAND

Not Until Representatives of Other Governments Renounced All Relations With the Carranza Government and Appealed to General Blanco Was Anything Done to Stem the Tide of Lawlessness.

Aguas Calientes, Mexico, Nov. 23.—In the past few days Mexico City has been experiencing the most turbulent period of its existence, save only for the ten days' reign of terror when President Madero was besieged in the national palace. The censorship which has been applied to newspaper correspondence in the capital by the Carranza authorities now has been relaxed since Villa's army has advanced sufficiently close to the capital to open up frequent communication.

Advices received from Mexico City state that the city has been in a state of terror in the past two weeks, with frequent rioting accompanied by bloodshed and by wholesale confiscations of portable property, looting of houses and stores and open robbery of people on the streets. The blame is laid at the doors of the Constitutionalist soldiery, who, knowing they were soon to leave the capital, gave up all pretense of maintaining discipline or order. Civilians, terrorized, are hiding in their houses, and scores of business places remain closed, except when broken open by marauding bands. Protests by foreign diplomats against the treatment of their nationals were received with promises that adequate protection would be given, but no protection was forthcoming, it is said. Finally representatives of nearly all foreign countries at present represented at the Mexican capital met and at the end of a long discussion renounced all relations with the Carranza government, appealing directly to the commander of the federal district garrison, General Lucio Blanco, to safeguard the city.

General Blanco, having previously repudiated the Carranza government and announced his allegiance to the new provisional government of Provisional President Gutierrez, replied by bringing into the city from the suburbs 10,000 cavalry, leaving the defense of the outlying districts against the Zapatistas and outlaw bands to the militia. The regulars are now patrolling the streets and arresting criminals, rioters and inciters of disorder.

President Gutierrez, his cabinet and the members of the convention, who are not with their commands, left last night for Mexico City. They will make brief stops in Irapuato and Queretaro, but are expected to overtake General Villa's command before Villa himself enters the capital.

The Siege of Naco.

El Paso, Nov. 23.—Fifteen hundred Villa troops with a battery of artillery have left Casas Grandes to reinforce Governor Maytorena's army before Naco, according to General Tomas Ornelas, commanding Juarez. It is the intention, he said, to rid Sonora of Constitutionalists immediately.

EVACUATION OF VERA CRUZ

General Funston Receives Final Orders From Washington.

Washington, Nov. 23.—At a conference held at the war department last night arrangements were effected for the evacuation of Vera Cruz. Final orders for the evacuation have been forwarded to General Funston. While it is understood that a decision has been reached as to whom affairs at Vera Cruz shall be turned over upon the withdrawal of Funston's forces, no information on this point is forthcoming.

Officials are apprehensive over the arrival of Villa in Mexico City. At the same time they are really more concerned over the safety of the residents of Vera Cruz. The administration has received guarantees from both Carranza and the Aguas Calientes convention that full protection will be afforded foreigners at Vera Cruz and Mexican citizens who have aided the American administration.

Suicide of a Bride.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 23.—Mrs. John Galwas, twenty-one years old, bride of three months, committed suicide by taking poison. The cause of the act is a mystery. She began to cry, and with the words, "I can't stand it any longer," swallowed the poison. Four children, the oldest eight years, were in the room at the time, all being children of Mr. Galwas by his first wife.

Their Escape Was Cut Off.

New York, Nov. 23.—A fire at 403 East Twenty-ninth street early Sunday morning caused the death of eight persons. Seven of the deaths may have been due to the fact that a door leading to the roof and by which they sought to escape, was locked.

The French cabinet has decided that, notwithstanding the war, France will participate officially in the Panama exposition at San Francisco.

THE MERCHANT WHO ANTICIPATES

To anticipate is to think and to act ahead.

It is not only looking to the future—it is acting before the future happens.

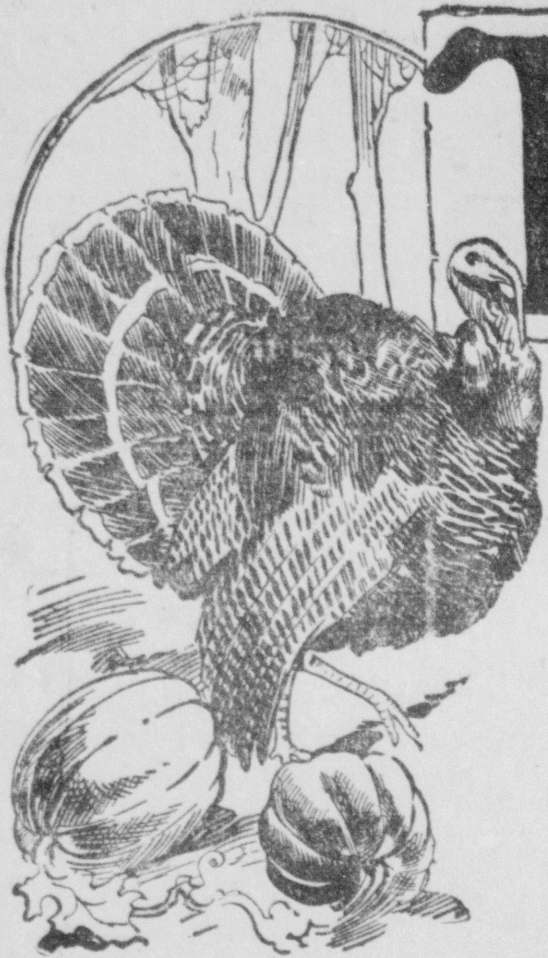

The clever retailer is the one who anticipates the wants of the consumer.

In this city there are thousands of consumer wants created by advertising in these columns.

On the shelves of every store are products that will fill these wants.

To bring the consumer and his wants together, the merchant who anticipates new business keeps a special eye on the products advertised in the newspapers. He keeps these articles out in the light where the consumer who has been influenced by the advertising will see them.

Anticipation is a good word in the making of customers.

BELGIAN FUND IS GROWING RAPIDLY

close when contributions may be made as it is the intention of those in charge of the movement to load the car the first week in December. This must be done in order that the supplies reach New York City in time to be loaded on the "Northwestern Miller" the ship, that will carry the cargo to the sufferers across the ocean. All persons, organizations and others who intend to aid in this movement are urged to make their contributions this week so that this community may give all the help possible.

The need of the Belgian people is well known in the United States. It has been repeatedly stated that the movement to send food supplies to them is not a violation of the United State's neutrality as the movement has the hearty endorsement of every country involved in the great conflict. It is realized that these people are on the very brink of starvation and that they must be aided. European countries, torn to pieces by strife, are not in a position to help Belgium. They have more than they can do to take care of their own people so the responsibility falls upon America.

Every community in the United States is aiding in furnishing food-stuffs for the Belgian people. It must be remembered that the population there is large and that it will require thousands of dollars to purchase sufficient flour and meal and supply the demand. The cargo of flour and meal is shipped to the American consuls who will turn it over to the Belgian government so that it can be distributed in the very best manner.

The farmers of this county can help in this movement. Many of them have wheat and corn in storage and can give a sack or a barrel by authorizing an exchange. The people of this community are responding nobly to the appeal and can feel that they have a part in this great work of charity.
